

REDS WIN FIRST TEST OF POWER

Communists Upset Program at St. Paul Convention

Gain Time to Dictate State Committee Selections

Plethora of Oratory Marks Organization Session

(By A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

ST. PAUL, June 17.—Blocking the regular program of the National Farmer-Labor Convention, the Communists and their sympathizers in the gathering today won the first test of strength over the conservative union labor half-completed.

William Mahoney, St. Paul Farmer-Labor leader, had run the convention as temporary chairman through the initial stages. He was succeeded by the chairman of the delegation for the Workers' party delegation, next morning. Mitchell, S. D., for permanent secretary, and she was chosen by acclamation.

Then the extremists began to show their strength. Duncan McDonald, Illinois, a union miner, was selected vice-chairman by acclamation. Joseph M. Coddie, next morning, for the Workers' party delegation, next morning. Mitchell, S. D., for permanent secretary, and she was chosen by acclamation.

After two assistant secretaries had been chosen, Chairman Taylor announced that appointment of committees were in order. A motion was made that each delegation be given one member on each of the committees on platform, Presidential candidates and organization was carried, and the secretary was asked to call the roll of States for committee members.

REPORTS OF ROW DECLARED OVERDRAFT

Manley then proposed that the convention sit until tomorrow morning, reminding the delegates that the committee memberships were important and arguing that they ought to be selected on the spur of the moment.

Mahoney objected, saying:

"We don't need to have you come here to tell us we cannot do this task in a few minutes. We have a roll call and the delegates might be all right for the State delegations to get together by themselves, and do their caucusing, there are some political groups who will also get together to fix up states.

This ring at the Workers' party and the Federated Farmer-Labor party, represented principally by William F. Quinn, C. E. Rutherford, drew applause from the conservatives. But when the standing vote of the delegates was taken, the Manley proposal prevailed by 145 to 140.

While this might be taken as an indication of the comparative strength of the factions, it was pointed out that the real test will come on State roll call. While 445 delegations were listed, the credentials committee report, the apportionment of votes to the various State and political group delegations totaled 971.

FEW INDIVIDUALS CONTROL

Alexander Howatt and his two companions from Kansas cast for 354-1/2 votes in the convention, while the Minnesota delegation had only 55-1/2 votes at its disposal. In some of the other States a single delegate has all the votes allotted to his State, this including the delegation from fifteen votes, and Indiana eighteen votes. The attitude of these individuals is expected to have much to do with the ultimate control of the convention.

Oratory was the chief output of the convention, every motion and selection of officers being accomplished only after full opportunity had been given for speech-making.

Every mention of the formation of a new party brought yells of approval, and flings at Senator La Follette and almost as many at Senator Mahoney, as temporary chairman, referred to the warning against the convention by the Wisconsin Senator, as a reason for the absence of some entire delegations and their attendance in others. He added:

"But despite these warnings, we can say to him, 'La Follette, we are here.'"

Duncan McDonald, in his speech of acceptance as Vice-Chairman of the convention said:

"The missing delegates are not absent because Senator La Follette frowned on this convention. They are home because they are out of railroad fare."

"If the man who frowned on this gathering has gone over to the crowd that plundered the public domain, he is a scoundrel and acted as a boodle-bag down and out. When it is only our right to return the compliment. Now if for that we are 'Reds' then those who call us that are 'yellow'."

The actual accomplishments of the first day of the convention were the hearing of the speech of the temporary chairman, acceptance of a partial report from the credentials committee, and the selection of permanent officers.

The forced adjournment engendered by the Foster-Bülowing report left the list of the program hanging fire and tonight the delegates were milling around in an effort to learn what would happen tomorrow.

Chairman Taylor announced he would make a formal speech of acceptance at the morning session and the naming of the committees was also a certainty.

OUTLINES PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

SPEECHES TO BE PEW

These ceremonies usually inaugurate the campaign, and Mr. Coddie's notification address will be one of a rather limited number he expects to make during the campaign. He will be asked to speak about the same number of addresses as Presidential candidates in office have made in past years. This would mean a little more speeches than the rule taken by Rockwell, the McAdoo chief, was "just building himself a little straw-man."

Thus far there have been almost as many in order. McAdoo will be placed in before the convention immediately following Senator Underwood of Alabama, as Arizona probably will yield to California.

The nominating speech is to be made at the San Francisco meeting of the House of Representatives, McAdoo will be asked to speak about the same number of addresses as Presidential candidates in office have made in past years. This would mean a little more speeches than the rule taken by Rockwell, the McAdoo chief, was "just building himself a little straw-man."

The answer of Gov. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt, his manager, was that delegates in 1920, after having nominated Coolidge, had voted to nominate him.

"We have a two-thirds vote. But, although they discussed the question, the Smith faction professed to be little interested in the rule taken by Rockwell, the McAdoo chief, was "just building himself a little straw-man."

NEW YORK SUBWAYS CARRY PASSENGERS BY MILLIONS

Engineering Scheme Derided Twenty Years Ago Today is Chief Transport of City

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

[Copyright by Public Ledger]

NEW YORK, June 17.—Thousands of those who will come to New York during the National Democratic Convention will have their first ride in the subway, and doubtless, when they flop into the "hole in the ground," will experience the thrills of Coney Island cowboys who had their first tilt in the saddle on the wooden horses of Steeplechase; or the gondoliers of Gotham who strummed their guitars in the covered waterway to the Red Mill in fair Luna Park.

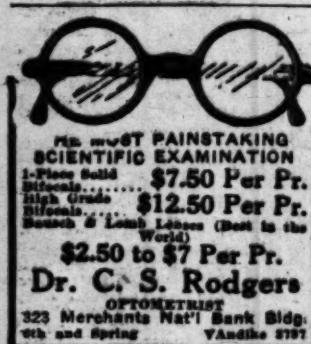

There are people who were born in New York who never rode in the subway; but there are only a few of them left. The man or woman who lives in New York and never took the underground ride is still sufficient of a curiosity to get the attention of the Sunday and supplement of New York's leading newspapers. There are plenty of persons who live in New York and who weren't born here to more than make up for the subway-happy ones. The same Louise, for instance, let him try to reach for a strap in the subway rush.

When the subway was installed, twenty years ago, the wisecracks of man who were on the underground tried to whisper the secret of existence. They scoffed at the idea of the people going into the hole in the ground. The "wisecracks" took their cue from the wisecracks of man who made a vaudevillian poker out of the situation. The people poured into the subway seats, and now no modern building is complete without its subway station.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

The subway was opened at 3 o'clock on one fine afternoon in October, 1904, the exact date being the 28th. Mr. B. McClelland, then Mayor of Greater New York, and as chief executive of the city ran the first train from under the Brooklyn Bridge as far as it was possible, while Mr. Wm. One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street, the terminal, was called the "Zanzibar" system, for the reason of its zig-zag route. It went up Fourth Avenue on the East Side of Forty-second street, landing under the present steel viaduct, went under famous Forty-second street to Times Square on the West Side and proceeded under Broadway to One Hundred and Forty-fifth street.

Before the start ceremonies were held in the Aldermanic chamber at the City Hall, where August Belmont, then president of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, made a few appropriate remarks. Mr. B. McClelland, the contractor of the great tunnel, made a few more, of which only these remain to posterity: "I'm not a knight of the dictionary, but I am a knight of the pick and shovel." And then they started. Mayor McClelland was handed a

MAN COUGHS UP LIVE LIZARD

Health Improves After He Rids Stomach of Queer Inhabitant.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
HOUULTON (Me.) June 17.—Herb. Tealings of this place has just gone through an experience he does not care to have repeated. For the past few weeks he has not been feeling in the best of health, and complained of something in his stomach, which seemed to be crawling and which he could not account for. He has been losing his appetite and was hardly able to walk. The other morning he had a coughing spell, and a live lizard was coughed up. For a time Mr. Tealings was ill at ease, but he has begun to recover. He thinks he must have swallowed the lizard while drinking alongside the road somewhere.

KNOW WHAT TO DO

"I know what to do with it," he said, "but it was not known whether his remark pertained to the utility of the lizard or the value of it in silver. He was no engineer, and he repose in a niche in the City Hall.

The other day the Andrew Freedman Home for once wealthy persons was opened on the Grand Concourse in the Bronx. The late Mr. Freedman, who deplored the poverty of those who had lost fortunes, was a member of which advanced age mitigated against, he said, that the first subway was built in the Union.

"It is not generally known," said Samuel S. Sage, president of the board of directors of the home, "but it is true that it is due more to the courage and enterprise of Andrew Freedman than to anyone else that the first subway was built in the Union."

"Freedman was warned on all sides by railroad men, financiers, investors and his best friends that he could not dig a hole in the ground through New York City and have the world wide with it. But that enterprising laid the foundation of Mr. Freedman's modest fortune."

SAGE WAS FOOLISH

Russell Sage, one of New York's eccentric millionaires who, like Senator William Clark, declared that he never could be traced through life by the quarters he dwelt in, was one of the first to believe the opinion volunteered to Freedman. Mr. Sage, notwithstanding his commanding position in the financial world, was always accessible to newspapermen. When the proposed subway was mentioned as a possibility he said to reporters:

"The proposed subway is the most foolish thing that ever was heard of. New York people will never go into a hole in the ground to get out. Why, the proposed subway will be a failure."

Mr. Sage was then a member of the trustees of the estate of Jay Gould. And Sage and the estate were the heaviest stockholders in the New York and阗 Railway Company, the only successor of a group of elevated lines of Manhattan.

MILLIONS DAILY

The receipts of the first day's operation of the original subway totaled $11,000, which was turned over to charity. Since then more than $100,000 has been collected in about a day's time in New York's subterranean passage. The original subway, extending from the Brooklyn Bridge to Van Cortland Park, under Broadway, and to Bronx Park on the East Side, was carrying 400,000 passengers a day. There have been carried over that line 1,300,000 a day.

On July 1, 1918, the "eighth system" of the subway was opened to the public. This meant a separate East Side and West Side system, with the Seventh avenue and Broadway line continuing to Van Cortland Park, and the Bronx Park on the East Side, the former at Atlantic Avenue, the former at Lexington Avenue, and penetrates the Bronx further than ever.

The last system, originally planned to carry 400,000 passengers a day, was

GIFT FROM CHALONER IS REFUSED

California Reports Back to Farm Movement Here Adequately Financed

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—A proposed gift of $50,000 from John Armstrong Chaloner, wealthy New York resident, to the State of California, to aid in a campaign instituted by Chaloner to check the movement of young people from the country to the cities has been declined because a similar campaign in the State is far advanced and is being adequately supported, it was announced here today.

The State of Nevada has accepted a like gift from Chaloner and has adopted his plan of communicating with young people through the medium of motion picture and social centers, it was said.

He proposes to open the next phase of his campaign in Texas six months hence and will extend it from there to the remaining States in the Union.

The plan was first worked out on a 400-acre ranch owned by Chaloner near Charlottesville, Va., and produced excellent results, he said.

now accommodates 2,200,000 persons while the sun travels from east to east again. In 1923 there rode in the subway an average of 1,823,000 passengers. The gold standard of those who had lost fortunes, was a member of which advanced age mitigated against, he said, that the first subway was built in the Union.

Now the East Side subway goes into the Grand Central Terminal, into the Penn Station, Commodore Barry, Hotel Pennsylvania, Hotel Biltmore, Hotel New York, and Bowery Savings Building, and under and into other big structures in the vicinity. Away downtown you can step out of the subway and into the city of New York.

The Interborough Rapid Transit Company doesn't feel overcrowded from the influx of visitors to the Democratic convention any more than in present conditions.

The elevated trains now carry 950,000 passengers a day and can carry 1,200,000 more.

Summer in the subway decreases on an average of 300,000 a day. A million, beginning with June, leave New York to pass the summer at the resorts, but others make of New York a resort where they can stay all winter.

He and his brother Oscar, who is 12, and his sister, Elizabeth, 8, got tired of drab school days last Wednesday and decided to go on their own. For their adventure they selected the wilds of St. Mary's Park, Bronx. They had no money, no—but leave it to Charlie.

When spooners crooned under the sparse glimpses of moon that J. Pluvius permitted the trio to get through the window, Charlie tried to get rid of them, and these bought animal crackers. Milk came from baby carts while mothers weren't looking.

It was early yesterday while they slept in a park, Elizabeth whimpered. It was kind of cold, too, so Charlie took pity, and they went to their home, 186 Lincoln Avenue, Bronx, where their mother was prostrated with grief over their disappearance.

AMERICAN ATHLETES WORK OUT

Olympic Stars Practice on Board "America" With

1ST WIRELESS AND A. P.
ON BOARD STEAMSHIP AMERICA, June 17.—An American Olympic team, taking advantage of excellent weather and a smooth ocean, got down to real training today with the athletes testing their sea legs in morning and afternoon workouts. There was a colorful scene of activity the men working the promenade track, boxers and wrestlers at work in the rings, gymnasts performing, swimmers utilizing the special tank and outdoor on the deck.

John Romig, Verne H. Booth and Johnson led the distance men in a two-mile run. Most of the track men, however, decided to remain until tomorrow. Charlie Paddock was the only sprinter to take a workout.

All the men are in fine condition, except Loren Murchison, who is recovering from an attack of tonsilitis and will keep quiet during the voyage.

On the beach, the 16-year-old swimmer, the youngest athlete aboard, was the best ever. In the last, Dode was at his own way. The verdict was unanimous.

BODY

BUFFERS 9 YEARS WITH STOMACH AND LIVER

Find Relief in the Very First Bottle of Cosa Volcanic Iron Water.

“I am a healthy man and I digest my food for the first time in nine years without inconveniences from the use of Sour Stomach and I no longer have that debilitated feeling from an inactive life.”

“A few years ago I came to Los Angeles, a helpless invalid, with debilitated health from the climate, and my condition failed to improve until I purchased a case of Cosa Volcanic Iron Water. The very first bottle relieved my debilitated condition to a great extent, and three days later I was thoroughly restored to health, with more vitality than I had in many years.”

“I now live at 1189 West 7th St. and am in good health, but now that I am in good health, I will return within a few days to my old home in Haxton.”

“PETE PEARSON.”

“In the use of Cosa Water is the other mineral waters, and in many cases you get made it twice the price.”

“Cosa Water today costs 50 cents a bottle.”

“GOOD THING FOR THAT BIRD A LADY WITH HIM — I JUST JACK THE GIANT KILLER TIME A POOR SIMPLE-MINDED GIRL HE MAY BELIEVE THAT STUFF ABOUT BAD MAN HE IS, BUT TO ME HE AS EMPTY AS THE LINING OF A BOTTLE — IF HE FOOLS AROUND WITH ME HE BETTER WEAR RUNNING SHOES TO PROTECT HIS EYES.”

first bottle in this case does not benefit you, return the remaining bottles at once and we will refund your money in full without question. Full treatment or case of 16 bottles, $16.00. WHAT'S the ANSWER?

MULTIPLY—Fifty trees or more per acre by 100 feet or more per tree by 25 cents or more per foot.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Take out your pencil and figure it out. The result is a very conservative estimate of the AVERAGE RETURN PER ACRE FROM A MATURE AVOCADO GROVE.

Get the result in half—or take one-third of it—and still you have a very gratifying income from your grove. Can anything be safer?

INVESTIGATE

RIGHT NOW—TODAY—INVESTIGATE the facts of the avocado industry. When you have done this—you will no longer be satisfied with 4 per cent on your money—or 7 per cent—but will want one of these money-making groves.

BUT BEWARE—buy your grove in proven avocado territory—LA HABRA HEIGHTS, a project developed by the avocado pioneers of California, close to Los Angeles and the beaches. A distinctive homeite with each parcel.

Take part of that vacation money, and place it in the great development—if necessary deny yourself a vacation to buy at La Habra Heights and protect your future.

You save it to yourself, your family, to investigate

NO SHORTAGE OF LABORERS

Tulare County Fruit Belt Well Supplied

High School Girl Wins in Merit Contests

Economy Noticeable in School Districts

VISALIA, June 17.—Labor for handling fruit, either in the orchard or packing-houses this season, will not be a problem, according to indications. Applications are already being received in many sections of the county for positions in orchard and other fruit work. It is believed that shortage of work in other lines this year has directed many persons toward the orchards. It is also expected that there may be a drop in labor costs, although as yet there has been no tendency in that direction. Larger growers expect to pay about the same as last season.

Whether the surplus of labor will be a problem remains to be seen, in the opinion of Frank R. Herriot, State director of the Bureau of Employment Security.

This is ample help for present harvests and should the labor question become a real problem chambers of commerce will be asked to establish clearinghouses.

SCHOOL ECONOMY

VISALIA, June 17.—A noticeable tendency toward school economy is apparent in the spending of various school districts of Tulare county reaching the office of the county superintendent for filing.

Lindcove and Earlimar are the only two districts contemplating any economies, but in both cases both instances enlargement of the present buildings is made obligatory by the increased number of students to be in attendance next fall. Lindcove has $15,000 bonds to add two new rooms and will start construction as soon as preliminaries are settled. Lindcove will vote on a $5000 issue on the 20th, and Earlimar on addition to the old building.

All other city and rural districts will make only such necessary repairs as to keep the present property in good condition.

POULTRYMAN PROFIT

TULARE, June 17.—With egg production at 20 per cent higher than last year, the market is up. The Tulare Poultry Association continued its steady record-breaking climb during the month just passed with a new one of business accounting to 200,000, the highest figure for May of any year of its history and in excess of the total of May in 1923. This high record was achieved in spite of hamperment of poultry products on account of foot-and-mouth regulations.

Price: May eggs were set at 22 cents for firsts and 19 cents for seconds, while the price of May brought 25 cents and 20 cents. Fully 70 per cent of the eggs marketed by the association were firsts, an exceptionally good and profitable showing.

COMPLETE LONG TRIP

LINDSAY, June 17.—A little over a year ago Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Craft of Long Beach left the E. T. Wheeler ranch west of Lindsay on an automobile tour of the United States. Almost a year to the day they returned to Lindsay and began a 14,000-mile tour, practically circled the United States. They made the trip through Spokane, Duluth, Columbus, O.; Wyoming, W. Va.; Washington, D. C., and spent the winter in Florida.

They declare they are "mighty glad to get back" and care especially for the people of Lindsay. "We are staying in Florida," they say, "so heavy and so far south in the Bering Sea as he found it this spring. He said he had many times to use dynamite and power boats to release the Native from the ice. He reported the Eskimos on St. Lawrence Island well and counting the proceeds of a prosperous fox and whale catch.

Typing Expert

This student "winner of medals" is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Linehan and has attended the local schools since coming here from San Francisco a few years ago.

NOW AT HELM OF FRENCH REPUBLIC

SCIENTISTS TO MEET AT LIMA, PERU

Pan-American Congress Will Have Representatives From United States

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, June 17.—On November 16 next, the third Pan-American Scientific Congress will assemble at Lima, Peru, and will continue in session for two weeks. The organizing committee is now actively engaged in making arrangements and co-operating committees in the different republics of the American continent also are engaged in arousing interest among the scientific and educational institutions of the respective countries.

Reports from Lima indicate that the forthcoming congress will be equally as important as its two predecessors. At the meeting at Santiago, in 1908, the associations and individuals of the United States sent delegations to the congress, and in all probability a large delegation will go to Lima.

The work of the congress will be subdivided into sections devoted to agriculture, zoology, and mineral physics, and mathematics; mining, metallurgy and applied chemistry; engineering; medicine and sanitation; biology and agriculture; private, public and international law; economics and sociology; and education.

BERLIN, June 17.—Fifteen hundred University of Petrograd students, arrested within the past three months for favoring the opposition wing of the Communist party, rioted in the notorious Siberian prison when they were refused permission to say farewell to their parents or being given a chance to provide themselves with food.

The students smashed everything they could about the prison-chairs—windows, woodwork and dishes. The soviet authorities reacted by confiscating all the food and money arriving for students.

MENTAL TESTS SORT CHILDREN

Schools Puzzled by Varied Grades of Intelligence

Dull Ones Provided for, but Others Are Problem

Rapid Promotion Favored as Solution by Some

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Putting intelligence tests made it possible to sort out children according to their brains and capacity, but educators planned the work of each school grade to suit the average child of a given age. Progressive cities provided special schools for the abnormally dull children—the obviously feeble-minded and undeveloped. But the rest of the children worked together, regardless of mentality. Dull pupils struggled along and bright pupils lagged while the great majority plodded.

Then methods of testing made it possible for a teacher to recognize the incipient genius, the high-grade moron and other degrees of mentality.

VARIED MENTALITY

In one ordinary class there was a boy of 11 years whose mental age was 17 years and 5 months. In other words, at 11 years was about equal to that of the average child at 17. In the same room was a boy 15 years old, whose mental age was only 9 years and 8 months. The work of the grade was intended for 11-year intelligence. The boy with the 17-year-old mind was doing the work in a fraction of the time needed by other pupils, and then dreaming. Instead of developing his abilities, the teacher was teaching his habits of laziness.

The boy who was 9 years old mentally was the despair of the busy teacher. An examination by an expert might show that such a boy was gifted and could never progress beyond the mental attitude of a child of 9. On the other hand, if his development were carefully retarded, individual education might enable him to go farther with an education, and he might even raise his mental age somewhat. Between the two extremes in the class were eight or ten other children.

The dull pupils are being provided for much more quickly than the bright children. The dull child in a schoolroom is a burden on the class and a burden to the teacher.

The bright pupils do not ordinarily worry the teacher nor the city by their brilliance, and so they were not regarded as so much of a problem. For many years scattered attempts have been made, especially in private schools, to provide more efficient education for them. The usual solution of the problem is to cause a pupil to skip a grade or half a grade if the work he is doing is too easy.

CITY SAVES MONEY

The arguments in favor of rapid promotion for bright children are that the children in time by completing the school course more quickly; that the school is put in classes where the work is difficult enough to stimulate them to real effort, and that a city saves money because it costs from $30 to $120 a year to educate each pupil in a public school system.

This is the easiest way of doing something about the bright child. Some idealistic educators, however, oppose the idea that a child should be placed in school according to his mental age, and their objections are worth considering. Such educators point out that the schools in which the children are the potential leaders of the country tomorrow, and that the country would benefit by investing their time in them. That is, a community would benefit by giving these children broader development rather than pushing them along as fast as possible through the routine system.

Such schools for gifted children have been established in the German schools, and there are scattered experiments with them in this country. It is possible in these schools to give the students extra subjects such as language, crafts and vocational training. It is also possible to present the subjects so as to develop the child's initiative, alertness, observation and reasoning powers.

The Occasional Table Plays Its Part

There is the tea table! Ever the hand-maiden of the busy hostess, now takes its place in the intimacies of the family circle. You can as well call it the breakfast table, for this versatile little table-on-wheels will comfortably accommodate four for breakfast. Or luncheon for that matter. The two drop leaves when open make a table approximately 28x43 inches. It will go thru a 30-inch door. It moves smoothly and in any direction—3-inch disc wheel casters do that. And it is beautiful!

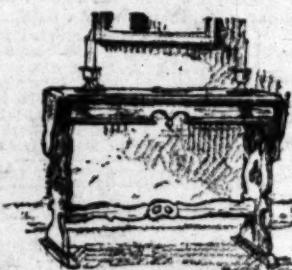

The nest of 4 tables, that serves as many purposes as there are kinds of tables. The one sketched consists of four graduated sizes—is of mahogany and priced $55.

For those who would rub elbows with their favorite authors, there is this little combination book trough and end table. Plenty of room for the most favored volumes. Italian walnut. $26.50.

And a Coffee Table! Democratic enough to permit itself being used for other purposes as well. Well braced, so you may feel perfectly safe in loading it with all the goodies you like. Mahogany. $25.

A console, by all means. To greet one's guests in dignified manner. The one sketched has scored top and drop ends. Italian design in American walnut. $62.50.

If There Is One Spot Of Her Home a Woman Loves More Than Another, It Must Be The Linen Closet

Here she lays away her precious table linens, perhaps a treasured hand loomed one from Ireland. Here she goes and stands in contemplative mood, ere she chooses the cloth that will grace her table for some special company—for a particularly nice breakfast that's to start tomorrow's day.

To the linen closet she goes before the snowy sheets are smoothed over her beds. This season of the year she is particularly careful, for there must not be too much bedding, but enough! If she is a Los Angeles home-keeper she will probably decide in favor of a wool comforter. We have some beauties—taffeta centers and satin borders. $75. Others as low as $30.00.

The very careful woman who loves beautiful things as well, will have in her linen closet some Wamsutta sheets and cases. Of fine percale. Perhaps on first thought you considered them expensive! Not so, once you have discovered the years of service they give, experienced the joy of creeping between their snowy folds. Let this be a reminder of Linen Closet needs.

You'll be interested in some of our choicest linens, such as hand-loomed cloths, plain and patterned, 72x72-inch, $15, to the huge banque size, 90x126, at $35. 22-inch napkins, $18 a dozen to 27x27-inch napkins at $35. Wamsutta Sheets, 63x99-inch, hemstitched, $4.00 to the 81x108-inch, hemstitched, $5.50. Pillow Cases, 42x38½-inch, hemstitched, $1.00; 45x38½-inch, $1.15.

Do You Make Coffee as It Should be Made—By Percolation Instead of Boiling?

Or do you, from force of habit, continue to make it the old way—boiled coffee, with health results that are at least questionable? Then, Mrs. Modern Home-keeper, come in and let the Manning-Bowman demonstrator tell you the how and why of coffee made the Manning-Bowman way—before the boiling point is reached!

To say nothing of the satisfaction of pouring it from one of the shining good-looking percolators such as carry the Manning-Bowman name. One percolator, specially priced for this week—$4.50 value—now $3.95. Other percolators to $9.50. Handsome percolators are just one of the beautiful Manning-Bowman products. Be as Gay as You Like! Paint Your Own Furniture

Have you a bedroom that would be more interesting if some gay paint was to be generously used? Do you possess a breakfast room set that needs "doing over"? Probably, for breakfast rooms have a way of luring the entire family to their sunny confines many times a day, and much use is bound to scar the best intentioned paints. So, "do it over."

Has the kitchen workshop become a place of dull finishes—a bit tiresome to keep spic-and-span? Paint it! Make it a place of shining beauty. You spend many hours within its walls, and they may as well be happy hours.

So, get out the paint, get out the brushes, a big apron, and get busy. We wager you'll enjoy the painting itself and certainly you'll enjoy the results.

STRIFE DIVIDES CHAMBER BOARD

Veteran Secretary Resigns at Santa Ana

Six of Eleven Directors Say They Will Follow

Junior Organization is One Cause of Turmoil

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
SANTA ANA, June 17.—Protesting the expense of an industrial demonstration, the inroads made by a junior organization in his board of directors and proposed sale of the auto camp park, James C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here, today said, and six of eleven members of the board offered to follow his lead. Metzgar has held his post for thirteen years.

Indications that internal strife and bickering had marked the course of the Chamber were heard in organization circles when it was explained that blocking of programs, underwriting demands and ascribed unwarranted criticism were to blame for the action which hit civic circles as a bolt of lightning.

NOTES OF TURMOIL
Continued turmoil, however, was known to have existed for months and Metzgar called to his aid immediately, said he, was taking his action in the interest of harmony. He was prevailed upon to hold office until August 1, after his resignation, and the remaining directors also agreed to forgo definite decision on intention to quit until that date. P. R. Reynolds, retired dentist; Mrs. C. P. Hinsley, dry goods operator; E. B. Wellington, attorney; George Dunton, automobile dealer; F. L. Purinton, marker manager and L. B. Swales, insurance man.

In his statement read before the board of directors, at a special meeting, Metzgar declared that he protested "in the name of the people" by upholding members of this organization, against the unnecessary and unjustified expense of maintaining a so-called industrial director and his department.

RAPS SECRETARY

Metzgar in his reference to the industrial department, also charged that A. Miller, industrial secretary, who was recently hired to take charge of that division of the chamber work devoted to the attraction of industry to Santa Ana. Miller was asked to terminate his services July 15.

In view of the present financial condition of the chamber, of an industrial man by the Orange county board of supervisors, A. Miller, who was recently hired to take charge of that division of the chamber work devoted to the attraction of industry to Santa Ana. Miller was asked to terminate his services July 15.

"I further protest and deplore the policy that has permitted the so-called industrial Chamber of Commerce to dictate the appointment of three of its members to the directorate of this organization, as an inducement for industry to locate in Santa Ana," Miller was asked to terminate his services July 15.

He views of the present financial condition of the chamber, of an industrial man by the Orange county board of supervisors, A. Miller, who was recently hired to take charge of that division of the chamber work devoted to the attraction of industry to Santa Ana. Miller was asked to terminate his services July 15.

REVIEWS SERVICE

Metzgar went on to say that in his thirteen years as secretary, he had not seen the chamber grow from an organization with a membership of less than 150 and a total income of less than $300, to a membership of 800 and a total income of approximately $15,000 with net assets of about $20,000.

A committee consisting of William H. Spurgeson, F. L. Purinton and O. B. Easton was named to look into the matter of cutting down the overhead expense. Miller was ordered to devote his entire time to the study of the matter. The committee of three in the industrial section of the chamber is now in the process of buying.

The junior chamber was organized as such some months ago. Directed by a committee of the senior board of directors, it changed its name and continued to function. A competing group was incorporated, but never organized, although it is believed that the two were understood. Later, however, on an initiative of the senior chamber, the original young men's organization was affiliated with it and the incorporated group was disbanded. Under terms of recognition the junior chamber placed three members on the senior board, while the senior board reciprocated.

PAIR FOUND GUILTY

Man and Woman Convicted of Statuary Offense

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

SANTA ANA, June 17.—Mrs. Addie Wiley, 18-year-old estranged wife of C. E. Wiley of Pomona, and G. E. Brooks, Anaheim printing shop proprietor, will know Thursday if they must go to San Quentin prison. A jury, after deliberating here more than four hours, found the guilty of statutory offense, after officers at Newport Beach raided the beach cottage in which they were accused of living as man and wife.

Miss Brooks, mother of two children, was held out for separate maintenance, asserting Mrs. Wiley broke up her home.

A previous trial resulted in a disagreement. Judge Drumm will pass sentence in Superior Court Thursday at 9:30 a.m., he said to day.

Wiley, testimony adduced was intended to show, left his wife and his job as assistant to Brooks at Anaheim. Then, it was said, his young wife stepped into the position.

CIVIL ENGINEERS GIVEN FUND

National Society Announces $25,000 Donation Made by Providence Man as Convention Opens

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 17.—A donation of $25,000 for the encouragement of engineering was received by the board of directors of the American Society of Civil Engineers who held its second business meeting in the Hotel Maryland. The check was sent by John H. Freeman, one of the foremost hydraulic engineers in the world. He makes his home in Providence, R. I.

In the communication received from Mr. Freeman today it is stated that a similar amount had been donated to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and to the Boston Society of Civil Engineers. Mr. Freeman has been at different times president of each of the three organizations.

This fund of $75,000 has been named the "John Ripley Freeman Fund" in honor of one of the most prominent engineers in the United States. Mr. Freeman made his donations, he said, because he feels indebted to the profession. The money will be used for the encouragement of engineering investigation with a view of giving a special recognition and encouragement to the young engineer. A resolution expressing appreciation for the gift was adopted by the board of directors and forwarded to the men who are stated to have shot love after a fight in the hotel in which four sailors are said to be implicated.

Selection of a jury began early this morning and was continued throughout the day, the final panel being drawn near the closing of court.

The selection will be the paces of the men who are to be brought to the trial of Nolan and Pal.

A varied program of entertainments has been arranged for the visitors and will include several sightseeing tours, visits to Culver City, Mt. Lowe and other interesting points.

Autos Burn as Fire Destroys Enamel Works

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, June 17.—Firemen were overcome by heat and smoke and several automobiles were burned when the plant of the Decco Baked Enamel Company, a small baked enamel company, was destroyed this afternoon by a fire that started in the baking room and spread rapidly.

The loss will be more than $20,000, it was said, with losses on both the cars, the plant and the building, which was owned by A. Ouson, well-known automobile man here. The fire was terribly hot and the heat made the work of firemen difficult.

No damage was done to the Elks' home, but considerable damage was done to the Rustic Arcade, owned by the Island Thieves, a day or two ago. The flames of the fire were overcome by heat and smoke was seriously injured. They were treated at the hospital.

It was impossible to determine just how many cars were burned as several were rescued from the flames.

Mrs. Honan, being the oldest by a few days, tried to understand the operation. She recovered from the anesthesia in exactly the same period of time that her sister did. They expect to leave the hospital at the same hour.

Police Search for Burglar Who Robbed Four Homes

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

POMONA, June 17.—An epidemic of house robberies believed to have been committed by the same burglar, a pass-key artist, was keeping Pomona police busy in trying to find some clue to the identity of the man or woman who between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. yesterday entered four local homes and obtained local values at hundreds of dollars.

The home of G. Earl Clark, 385 East 11th avenue, was the latest house to be robbed here. Here the pass-key thief made away with jewelry and silverware worth at $500. At the home of W. R. Black, 1715 West 11th street, the burglar took away the men's suits taken at the Clyde A. Gates residence on East Kingsley avenue, three men's suits were taken. Mrs. C. E. Henshaw, 604 East Holt, reported the loss of a silver musical instrument besides jewelry and other articles.

All four jobs have been connected with one person and police are following several hot clews.

MUST GIVE CLOTHES TO DAUGHTER

Mother Told in Divorce Hearing to Return Pretty Girl's Wardrobe

Clothes follow the girl in the eye of the law. Judge Thompson ruled yesterday.

The particular clothing under discussion was the wardrobe of pretty Rosa Lehenbauer, 17-year-old daughter of Otto Lehenbauer, who is in custody as a result of a court order issued with the decree divorcing him from her mother, Mary Elizabeth Lehenbauer.

Lehenbauer contended that his former wife had refused to let Rosa have her clothes. This point was somewhat clouded. Mrs. Lehenbauer declaring she had done nothing to interfere with the girl packed Rosa's wardrobe in a trunk and they were welcome to it any time they wanted to come for it.

Just to clear the matter up, however, the court ordered her to surrender the clothing.

The matter of Rosa's bank book was not so easily disposed of, however. Mrs. Lehenbauer had that also, and she had attempted to keep it on the ground that the girl is too young to take charge of it.

Willard Andrews, attorney for the father, contended that the bank book had the girl's name, but John L. Bisher, counsel for Mrs. Lehenbauer, raised the point that the mother was the rightful custodian unless the court should decide otherwise.

Judge Thompson adjourned the case to next Monday.

The body is at the Robinson and Adair parlors, 817 West Sixteenth street.

LAUNDRY

WASHINGTON, June 17.—El 16 de Noviembre próximo se reabre en Lima la capital del Perú el Museo de Artes y Oficios, que permaneció cerrado durante dos semanas. El comité organizador está ahora ocupadísimo en hacer los preparativos para su reapertura, la noche y los comités colaboradores en las diferentes repúblicas del continente americano, que se ocupan activamente en desempeñar su trabajo entre los más notables científicos y educativos de los respectivos países.

Las noticias de Lima se sabe que el anterior cierre se debió a la importancia que tienen los dos museos.

En la reunión que se celebró en Santiago en 1908, diez asociaciones instituciones de los Estados Unidos y Uruguay acordaron la creación del congreso y una delegación de igual importancia será sin duda enviada a Lima.

Los laudarios del congreso se subdivide en secciones consagradas a la antropología y la historia, la física y las matemáticas, la mineralogía, la metalurgia y la química.

En la sección de la ciencia y la industria: la biología y la agricultura; el derecho privado, público e internacional; la economía y la sociología; y, por último, la educación.

Funerales de los Marineros Muertos en la Explosión

Su bandera, con una estrella por cada uno de ellos, ondeó sobre los mortales despojos de aquellos cuatro y ocho espíritus que subieron a bordo de la nave en un momento cuando mira de frente a la muerte, y lo hicieron. Alrededor de ellos, 20,000 hombres rindieron silencio. Los marineros más jóvenes, incluyendo el último juvento a bordo del acorazado Mississippi, de la Armada de los Estados Unidos.

En el campo de Tropas, y dominando con la mirada la fosa de combate que se hallaba abajo, con sus pabellones a media asta, 5000 marineros estaban en pie con la bandera de la marina en tanto que el "Papa" Dallaghan, veterano trompeta del Mississippi, daba el toque de retreta en honor de sus compañeros de la fosa que permanecieron allí. Tanto el 2º regimiento de infantería se quedó en el suelo y se unieron a su bueque y sus compañeros de armas. La brisa del suroeste elevó las trepidantes notas fúnebres.

Fue universal el tributo que se rendió ayer a la memoria de esos mozos muertos. Filas de flores de la tierra se cubrieron cada ataud en el suelo de las filas de férreas bártulas del Presidente y de la Unión, que unieron sus ramos de flores a la escuadra británica de circunvalación, que se aproxima a nuestras costas, tributos de nuestra fota de combate, así como de todos los países vecinas y fraternales de Sudcalifornia.

Impresionantes en grado sumo fueron los funerales: nunca se ha visto en la historia de la marina, tanto en tierra como en mar, como lo hizo la escena del desfile que avanzó lentamente a compás de la Marcha Fúnebre de Chopin ejecutada por los bandas de música de la flota de combate. Marcharon batallones de oficiales vestidos de gala, la escolta armada de marineros y soldados de infantería marina con su equipo completo, el grupo de dolientes con uniforme impresionante en grado sumo.

Breakfast toast made at the table—delicately browned and deliciously hot!

IT'S THE toast that makes a perfect breakfast. With a Manning-Bowman Reversible-Door Toaster, you can have it just as you like it. Give the knob a twist, and the toast flips over. No need to touch the toast, no burned fingers! Toasted at the table, it is always deliciously hot.

The Manning-Bowman Reversible-Door Toaster is extra large—it takes a full slice of bread without trimming. It toasts quicker because it has a larger heating element. It toasts evenly and toasts to a delicate brown without drying-out the bread.

You can see this toaster, with other Manning-Bowman electric devices, at hardware and department stores, electric shops, jewelry and gift shops. The toaster is $8.00.

Of Interest to Women

THE LAST WORD.
BY ALMA WHITAKER

A BRAND FROM THE BURNING

Frankie is in jail again. She is 22 years old, and is in and out of jail.

Ever since she was 13 she has been in and out of jail.

She is a bright, buxom-looking girl with brown arms and a ready wit.

Four days ago I was desperate and ready to make a new life.

She is a housekeeper

whose prejudices are very em phatic. And there is a good deal of common sense in her.

Frankie deserves the "last word."

But when they tried to make her a "babies' ward" she was wonderful and very capable of making herself.

So, if Frankie can be as wonderful as she is, she will be a wonderful car

of water and two cups of coffee, and two cups of water, bring to a boil and boil stirring until a little is dropped into the water.

Then add four teaspoons of lemon juice and beat until and stiff enough to stand.

and three whole cloves, two and a cinnamon stick, add about two hours. Place in a pan three tablespoons of melts, add one thinly sliced onion and cook until it is a more serious charge.

That time she

I had been a girl who had been let out on trust again. But a few days later she was back again—this is a more serious charge.

ART SCHOOL PLANS EXHIBIT

Otis Institute Will Open Exposition of Works With Informal Reception Friday

Students and faculty of the Otis Art Institute are preparing for the sixth annual exhibit which will begin with an informal reception and garden tea on Friday afternoon, to be followed in the evening by an out-door dance and Pageant of Arts at which the students will appear in costume.

The exhibit will be open to the general public from 10 a.m. to 6 o'clock p.m. Saturday, and from 7 to 9 o'clock that evening, and from 2 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after which it will be displayed at the Los Angeles Art Museum in Exposition Park for two weeks.

Many of the students are showing splendid progress and give promise of notable work in the years to come, according to their instructors. Henry Lion, a student in the painting department, will be member of the faculty. An "assistance prize" of $100 has been offered by Cartbag Center for a memorial fountain.

OPEN TO ALL

This was a competition open to all sculptors in Southern California. Another student, C. P. Krauth, has been awarded a scholarship in the Art Students League of New York on a series of sketches submitted. Eight prizes of $25 each will be awarded during the exhibit to be drawn from the Arts Students Fund. The judges, members of the faculty, will be members of the faculty. An "assistance prize" of $100 has been offered by Mrs. Henry E. Huntington.

There are more than 200 students enrolled at the institute who are studying drawing, painting, sculpture, illustration, decoration, design, commercial design, decorative costume, decorative decoration, wood carving, metal work and jewelry, with special classes for children on Saturday. All of the men who are said to have committed the robbery were sentenced to San Quentin.

Swiss Guide for Canada

highest peaks in Canada.

EX-CARMAN CONVICTED

Asserted Brauds in Bold Hold-up of Collector Found Guilty

W. H. Yates, formerly a Pacific Electric motorman, was found guilty by a jury yesterday in Superior Judge Reeve's court of a charge of first-degree robbery. He is serving a life sentence.

The charge was made against

Yates after two men convicted for the robbery of a Pacific Electric collector at Sherman Oaks, and Robert Yates, president of the collector, were identified. The bandits, it was testified, obtained $4000 from the collector.

AGED PAIR WEDS SECOND TIME

Love Spark Rekindles After Divorce Had Sundered Forty-Year Ties

Divorced five years ago after forty years of married life, Hans and Caroline Erickson were remarried yesterday by Superior Judge Thompson.

After the couple, each of whom is past 60 years of age, were divorced, Hans came to California. He settled down in Pasadena. One by one their four grown children followed their father and made their home in the Crown City.

Three months ago the mother came to visit her children. The old love was rekindled and Erickson, she shyly told Judge Thompson yesterday, began a courtship.

Yesterday the happy pair sought the services of a magistrate to reunite them.

The bride was given away by Lew Head of Pasadena.
